INTRODUCTION

The townships included in this work are situated in the eastern portion of Suffolk County, Long Island, Southold on the extreme northeastern peninsula and Shelter Island between the North and South Flukes, across the harbor from Greenport village and Southold Bay.

The region in which they lie is picturesque and beautiful, bounded almost everywhere and deeply indented by the waters of the sea. The country is level and rolling, that of the mainland being almost unbroken by any appreciable elevation. The soil, for the most part, is very fertile and highly productive of vegetables and fruits, which are raised chiefly for the great metropolitan markets. The waters nearby abound in fish, and the oyster industry has grown to large proportions.

Both Southold and Shelter Island, reached after a few hours' journey by rail from New York City, have become important summer resorts.

Centuries ago, the Indians made this beautiful region a favorite resort; indeed, they resided here even after the settlement of these towns by English colonists early in the seventeenth century, less than twenty years after the founding of Plymouth.

This section of New York, on account of its early settlement and its importance in Colonial and Revolutionary times, possesses wonderfully rich sources of historical data. Indeed, several excellent local histories having already been published.

The purpose of this Register, therefore, is not to attempt an entirely new and minutely detailed account of Southold and Shelter Island, and their many years of history, but to condense the salient and most important facts into the space of one or two hundred pages, compact and easily accessible, that the history and family directory, with the business directories, may serve as a ready reference register of these towns.

We wish to acknowledge our indebtedness for historical data to the excellent "History of Southold," written by the Rev. Ephraim Whitaker, D.D., the famous "Griffin's Manual," published by the late Augustus Griffin of this town in 1857, the carefully compiled "Historical Papers on Shelter Island and its Presbyterian Church," prepared by the Rev. Jacob E. Mallman of Shelter Island, the "History of Mattituck," written by the Rev. Charles E. Craven, Prime's "History of Long Island," the town and church records, and to all the various sources from which these data have been derived.

To those who gave their subscriptions for the book, and to the business men, who aided us by their advertisements to make the work financially successful, we extend our thanks. We hope they will find the Register what we have endeavored to make it—something of interest and value.

INDIAN HISTORY

The Indians, who held possession of the lands now included within the townships of Southold and Shelter Island, were members of the chief tribe of red men on Long Island.

In the territory lying east and southeast of Riverhead, it is thought there were four tribes; the "Manhansetts" of Shelter Island, whose Sachem was called "Yoco"; the "Montauks," dwelling on the Montauk Peninsula, east of Easthampton, a tribe, whose Sachem was called "Waiandance"; the "Shinnecocks," living in the region about the Canoe Place, who called their Sachem, "Witaneymen" or "Wienaganim"; and the "Corchaugs," who lived in what are now the townships of Southold and Riverhead. The Southold Indians called their Sachem "Momoweta."

The chiefs of these four tribes were brothers, it is said, the oldest of whom was "Yoco" of Shelter Island. He was the Grand Sachem, not only of the four eastern Long Island tribes, but over all the neighboring tribes, at least as far west as Hempstead. The four "peninsula" tribes, by an agreement confirmed May 29th, 1645, took under their protection all the Long Island Indians as far west as the "Rockaways" in Hempstead. This protectorship was agreed upon by Rockouw, the great Sachem of Cotsfewaninck (Ahaquazuwamminck) (Colonial History of New York, Vol. XIV., p. 60; Plymouth Colonial Records, Vol. IX., p. 18; "Shelter Island and Its Presbyterian Church"; Mallmann).

The Indians on Long Island were subject to the powerful Pequoit Indians, to whom they paid tribute. The chief Sachem of this tribe, who for so long terrorized and harassed the New England settlers, until 1637, when the English, under the leadership of Capt. John Mason and Capt. John Underhill, finally conquered and exterminated them, "held dominion over divers petty Sagamores, who were chiefs of the tribes on Long Island, over the Mohegans, and over the Sagamores of Quinipiac, yea, over all the people that dwelt on the Connecticut River, and over some of the most southerly inhabitants of the Nipmuck country about Quinebaug." (Goodkin's History).

The eastern Long Island Indians, immediately on the conquest of the Pequots by the settlers of New England, sent representatives to the English, to express their wish to be friends with the white men and to be subject to them. Governor Winthrop of the Massachusetts colony says in his Journal, "Sachems from Long Island came voluntarily and brought a tribute to us of twenty fathom of wampum each of them." Leon Gardiner, commander of the fort at Saybrook, Conn., left this record, "Three days after the fight with the Pequots, came Waidance to me, to see if we were angry with all Indians. I answered, No; but only with such as killed Englishmen. Then he inquired if he (Gardiner) would trade with them, that is the Indians, adding, 'I will go to my brother, for he is the great Sachem of Long Island, and if we may have peace, and trade with you, we will give you tribute as we did to the Pequots.'"

The early English settlers received several deeds of the lands embracing Southold and Shelter Island, from the Indians, who, for the most part, always maintained peaceful relations with the white men.

History of Southold Township

The Township of Southold, Long Island, New York, comprises the territory contained in the long peninsula which forms the extreme northeastern limit of Suffolk County mainland and extends about twenty-two miles from Riverhead township, the county seat, to Orient Point. Southold includes also several islands, among them, Plum Island on which is situated the United States naval station Fort Terry, and Fisher's Island which lies just off the Connecticut shore.

The mainland portion of the township is bounded on the north by Long Island Sound, on the east principally by Plum Gut and Gardiner Bay, on the south by Little and Great Peconic bays, and on the west by Riverhead.

The principal villages of Southold township are Greenport, Southold, Cutchogue, Mattituck, Peconic, New Suffolk, East Marion, Orient and Orient Point, but of these Greenport is the most populous, containing one-third approximately of the inhabitants of the township. Greenport, Southold and Mattituck villages are banking centres for the town.

Greenport, which possesses one of the finest harbors on the Atlantic coast, is a center of ship and boat building, and of an important oyster industry. It is also a commercial center for a wide farming region. It is the terminus of the Greenport branch of the Long Island Railroad, which connects it by rail with all the important Long Island towns and with New York City. It is connected also by boat with New York City, New London, Conn., Block Island, R. I. (summer), and Sag Harbor, and by ferry with Shelter Island. The Eastern Long Island Hospital is situated here.

Greenport is a charming residential village, with broad macadam streets and avenues, most of which are shaded by beautiful trees. It contains a number of well-built business blocks, several good hotels, seven churches, two banks, and many lodges. It owns its own electric light and water systems. The population is now about 3,000.

History of Southold Township

EARLY PROPRIETORY AND SETTLEMENT.

The township of Southold, the oldest of the towns on Long Island was first settled probably a year or two prior to 1640, on the 21st of October, of which year, the first church here was organized.

Among the earliest land owners here was Matthew Sunderland, who on the 18th of June 1639, leased of James Farrett, agent for Lord Sterling, the original proprietor, lands which are included in this township. After his death, his widow retained possession of the property, which after his purchase, he had improved. In 1649, Mrs. Sunderland married William Salmon, her family took the personal property and claimed the land under the lease from Farrett (History of "Southold" Whittaker; Town Records).

Richard Jackson, on the 15th of August, 1640, obtained a deed from James Farrett, for lands which he had purchased in Southold. Less than two months later he sold this land which he had improved and on which he had erected a dwelling, to Thomas Weatherby, mariner for £1.5. The latter subsequently sold it to Stephen Goodyear of New Haven, who in turn sold it to John Ketcham. Thomas Moore to whose descendants the property later was bequeathed, was the last of the early proprietors of this piece of land.

There seems to be authentic evidence that Southold contained the families of several settlers prior to the complete organization of the first church.

When Southold became a part of the territory under the jurisdiction of the New Haven Colony, the New Haven settlers sometimes called this town by its Indian name, Yennecock or Yennecott and sometimes by its English name, Southold. The people of Southold, when they were about to build a village at the western end of the territory of the town, on Wading river, voted that it should be called West Hold.

The Rev. Ephraim Whitaker, D. D. in his excellent and trustworthy "History of Southold," gives the following list of men who it is believed on authentic evidence were the first settlers in Southold: Robert Akerly, Isaac Arnold, Thomas Baker, John Bagley, Thomas Benedict, Richard Benjamin, Simeon Benjamin, John Booth, Richard Brown, Richard Brown, Jr., John Budd, David Carinthe, Henry Case, Roger Cheston, Richard Clark, John Conklin, John Conklin, Jr., Jacob Conklin, Thomas Cooper, John Corey, Jacob Corey, Abraham Corey, Mathias Corwin, John Corwin, Theophilus Corwin, William Cramer, Caleb Curtis, Thomas Curtis, Philemon Dickerson, Peter Dickerson, John Dickerson, Thomas Dimon, Nicholas Edes, John Elton, Matthias Edwards, John England, Jeffrey Esty, William Fanley, Benoni Flint, John Franklin, John Frost, Charles Glover, Samuel Glover, Ralph Goldsmith, John Greete, Samuel Grover, Simon Grover, James Haines, John Haines, William Hallock, Richard Harrude, John Herbert, John Herbert, Jr., James Hildreth, Barnabas Horton, Joseph Horton, Benjamin Horton, Caleb Horton, Joshua Horton, Jonas Houldsworth, Richard Howell, Thomas Hutchinson, Richard Jackson, Joseph Jennings, William Johnson, Jeffrey Jones, John King, John Ketchum, Samuel King, Thomas Mapes, Thomas Mapes, Jr., Jeremiah Meacham, Stephen Metcalf, Geo. Miller, Thomas Moore, Benjamin Moore, Jonathan Moore, Nathaniel Moore, Francis Nichols, Humphrey Norton, Thos. Osman, Isaac Overton, Peter Paine, John Paine, John Peakin, Edward Petty, William Purrier, John Racket, James Reeve, Thomas Rider, John Rider, William Robinson, Evan Salisbury, William Salmon, John Salmon, Thomas Scudder, Henry Scudder, Joshua Silvester, Richard Skidmore, Arthur Smyth, Nathaniel Smyth, Robert Smyth, Thomas Stevenson, Edward Stevenson, Matthew Sunderland, John Swezey, Thomas Terrell, Richard Terry, Thomas Terry, John Terry, Daniel Terry, Edward Treadwell, John Tucker, Charles Tucker, Henry Tuthill, John Tuthill, John Tuthill, Jr., Daniel Turner, Thomas Tustin, John Underhill, Jeremiah Vail, Jeremiah Vail, Jr., Thomas Weatherby, William Wells, Henry Whitney, Thomas Whittier, John Wiggins, Abraham Wiggins, Barnabas Wines, Barnabas Wines, Jr., Samuel Wines, John Youngs, pastor. John Youngs, Jr., Thomas Youngs, Samuel Youngs, Joseph Youngs, Christopher Youngs, Joseph Youngs, Jr., Joseph Youngs, mariner, Gideon Youngs, one hundred thirty-eight in all.

John Bagley was born in England in 1617 and resided at Guilford, in the New Haven jurisdiction in 1642. He settled in Southold in 1654, and resided here for several years at the end of which time he removed to Jamaica, Long Island.

William Cramer moved from Southold to Elizabeth, New Jersey. To that settlement also went John Dickerson, John Haines, William Johnson, Jeffrey Jones, Evan Salisbury, Barnabas Wines, Jr., and Thomas Youngs.

Thos. Baker removed to Easthampton, and so did Jeremiah Meacham and George Miller, who were among the early settlers in Southold.

John Tucker, William Fanley, John Budd, Arthur Smyth, Robert Ackerly and John Frost moved to Brookhaven. John Underhill, the famous Indian fighter spent the latter years of his life in Oyster Bay township, Long Island.

Thomas Stevenson, who settled in Southold as early as 1644, was in Hempstead in 1647, and settled in Newton prior to 1656.

Thomas Benedict, who was a native of Nottinghamshire, England came early to Southold and settled on the Stream now known as Millauk. His five sons and four daughters were born in this town. Afterwards he lived in Huntington, Jamaica and Norwalk, Conn.

Liber A of Southold Town Records, which begins with the date 1651, contains the following record: Anno Domini, 1651, Breefe records of all the inhabitants accomodations herein as followeth videth Impris. The Reverend Mr. John Youngs, Pastor of the Church of Christ in Southold, aforesaid, his home-lot, with the meadow thereunto adjoyninge, conteyning by estimation seaven acres, more or less, bounded, etc." The Rev. Dr. Whitaker says, "This lot was on the southwest corner where the road from the harbor joined the main street. Just across the street and north of the pastor's was the house-home-lot of William Wells, Esq. Barnabas Horton's lots were on the northwest and northeast corners of the main street and Horton's lane, where Mr. David P. Horton and Ira Hull Tuthill, Esq., now live (1881). The Southold Savings Bank and the post office stand on the site of John Budd's home-lot.... Richard Benjamin lived on the south side of the street immediately west of the church-lot and burying ground. He was the first sexton. Captain John Underhill's home-lot was north of the street and on the hill west of Mr. David T. Conklin's present residence. The home-lot of Thomas Mapes, who was a land-surveyor, was the site of Mr. Gilder S. Conklin's present residence, and Barnabas Wines' home-lot was on the opposite side of the street near the present residence of Elder Edward Huntting. Thomas Terry's was south of Wines', and Philemon Dickerson's lot was where Elder Hiram J. Terry's residence now stands. Mr. William Y. Fithian's residence is on the original site of Thomas Moore's lot, and Mr. Moore's son Benjamin bought the land and probably the present Case House at the corner of the main street and the north road to Greenport. Henry Case's lot included the site of Mrs. Beulah Goldsmith's present residence. On Charles Glover's original lot now stands the residence built by J. Wickham Case, Esq.... On the western branch of the Town Creek, or Head of the Harbor, seems to have lived Joseph Youngs, who was, like Charles Glover, a mariner. The remains of Glover's Wharf were recently in existence; and Joseph Youngs also probably built one, for he was a wealthy shipmaster. Before his settlement in Southold, he had been active, as the master of the "Love," in conveying passengers from England to America. He obtained lands at Salem, Massachusetts, in 1639; but he became one of the early settlers of Southold. In his maritime and mercantile business, he was in the next generation succeeded by Col. Isaac Arnold, whose Storehouse was at the Head of the Harbor. He was a ship owner; was appointed by the Dutch to be shout or sheriff of the Five Eastern Towns of Long Island in 1673, but speedily resigned; was one of the patentees of the town in 1676; and from that time until 1703 a judge or justice of the peace, being the Judge of the County from 1693 to 1706. He was in 1691 appointed one of the Judges of Jacob Leisler, the leader of the popular party in New York City, who was condemned and put to death there for acting as Governor of the Province after the Revolution in England and the fight of King James II. Col. Arnold was probably the earliest slave owner in Southold. He died November 7, 1706.

Col. John Youngs was Col. Arnold's nearest neighbor. In the second generation of this place he was the foremost man in Southold, and no other on Long Island was so prominent. He was the eldest son of the Rev. John Youngs... was born about 1623 and died on the 12th of April, 1697. He early became the master of a vessel, and was active in the hostilities against the Dutch.... He represented Southold at different times in the General Court of the New Haven Jurisdiction, and afterwards in the Legislature of the Connecticut Colony. He was especially sent to the latter colony in 1663 to ask aid against the Dutch. The next year he collected and organized a force of Southold militia to aid in the capture of New Amsterdam (New York).... In 1666 he obtained from the Indians a new deed for the territory of the Town, probably including both larger grants and clearer demarcations than had been obtained in 1640.

In 1680 he became the sheriff of Yorkshire, which included all Long Island and Richmond and Westchester counties.... He was appointed by Governor Sloughter one of the Judges for the trial of Jacob Leisler. At the time of his death Col. Arnold was seventy-five years of age.

Perhaps the earliest election of town officials was held Dec. 11, 1656, when "William Wells, Esq., Lieut. John Budd, Barnabas Horton, William Purrier and Matthias Corwin were appointed to order town affairs according to order in that case provided until the appointed time for a new election."

Oysterponds (Orient) was purchased from the Indians about 1646 (Thompson's History of Long Island, Griffin's Journal). Augustus Griffin, in his quaint "Journal" published in 1857, says "I am satisfied from the strictest researches I have made that John Tuthill, John Youngs, Jr., Israel Brown, Richard Brown, Samuel Brown, and John King were the first six men to settle in this place with their families, and the first owners of its lands from the natives."

Tradition has it that the first dwelling built on the neck of land where Orient is now situated was erected on the south side of the road about one-third of a mile east of the foot of Truman's Beach. On the opposite side of the road but a few rods east of this rude structure, Israel or Joseph Brown built a dwelling. Nearby was the residence of Samuel Brown. About twenty rods east of this house was the double dwelling of Richard Brown and his son Richard Brown, Jr.

Twenty-five rods east of this house was the residence of John Tuthill. "He may have come to this place from Hingham, Mass., whence came hither Henry Tuthill, the ancestor of all the Tuthills of Southold. Henry Tuthill settled in Hingham, Mass., in 1637, where he had land which he afterwards sold, probably because of his removal to Southold. His wife survived him, and afterwards became the wife of William Wells, Esq." ("History of Southold," Whitaker).

Peter Hallock, whom Augustus Griffin believed to be the first settler in Southold township, was probably the father of William Hallock, and may have come to Southold if traditional evidence may be relied upon as authentic. William Hallock, who died Sept. 28, 1684, left records, property and posterity in this town. Though he wrote his name Holyoake, it is believed that he was the ancestor of all the Hallocks and Hallecks in this country. (Records of Southold, "History of Southold," Whitaker, "Hallock Genealogy," Rev. W. A. Hallock, D.D.)

"John King, who had purchased the lands adjoining John Tuthill's east line, built for himself and his son Samuel a house, about twenty-five rods east of said Tuthill's." (Griffin's Journal, p. 22.)

"Gideon Youngs, who settled in this place (Orient) with the Browns, Tuthills and John King, was the third son of Rev. John Youngs." (Griffin's Journal, p. 23.)

Jeremiah Vail, who came to Easthampton, probably about 1650, settled on the Orient section of this town on what was called for many years "Point Farm."

Griffin's Journal, p. 35, contains the following record of families in Orient: "In the year 1700, which was fifty years" (approximately) "after the first settlement of our village there were not more than twenty-four families, and which occupied

4th son

about the same number of tenements. The heads of those families were, commencing at the west end, viz.: Israel Brown and his son Joseph, if at the time a married man; 2d, Samuel Brown; 3d, Richard Brown, Jr. The father, Richard Brown, Sr., died 1686. 4th, John Tuthill, Jr.; 5th, Samuel King; 6th, his father, John King, Sr., who must at this time have been a very aged man; 7th, Edward Petty; 8th, John Tuthill, 3d; 9th, John Pain and his son John; 10th, John and Nathaniel Moore; 11th, William King, father of Joseph, Jeremiah, etc, etc.; 12th, John Terry, Jr.; 13th, Jeremiah Vail, Jr.; 14th, Samuel Glover; 15th, Caleb or John Curtis; 16th, William King, Sr.; 17th, ——— King; 18th, Samuel Beebe, Jr.; 19th, Jeremiah Vail; 20th, David Youngs; 21st, Gideon Youngs, Jr. (the father having died in 1699); 22d, Daniel Tuthill or his father John Tuthill, Jr.

The earliest complete list of the Mattituck settlers is found in the rate list of Sept. 16th, 1675. The names that appear to belong to Mattituck are as follows: "Thomas Tusteene, Thoms Maps, Senr., Thoms Terrill, James Reeves, Will Reeves, John Swasie, Senr., John Swasie, Junr., Joseph Swasie, Will Halloke, John Hallock, Richard Howell and Thomas Osman."

The Rev. Charles E. Craven in the "History of Mattituck" gives the location of the residences of these settlers as follows: "Thomas Tusten was near the foot of Manor Hill, probably on the south side of the highway then, in the Fort Neck. He probably settled north of the highway in 1684. William Reeve probably had his house near Fisher's ice house, where Obadiah Hudson later dwelt. Across the lake and the highway, on a part of Charles W. Wickham's estate, Thomas Mapes was located, and next east of him, James Reeve. Thomas Terrell and his wife, Mary Reeve, were probably then in possession of the Pike farm with their house near the old highway. William Purrier in his will, 1671, gave to Thomas Terrell 'two acres of land near or adjoining to his own dwelling house.' Thomas Mapes' farm as well as Reeve's, came from William Purrier.

The others of the first twelve settlers lived in another group some two miles to the west, on the North road, in what is now called West Mattituck. Richard Howell was next to the River-head line, and near him were his father-in-law, William Hallock, and his brother-in-law, John Hallock. Near Osman's Lane (later Aldrich's and now Laurel Lane) dwelt Thomas Osman, and east of him the Swaseys, John and his sons John Jr. and Joseph."

Original land owners in Corchang: William Wells, 3 lots; Barnabas Horton, 3 lots; William Purrier, 3 lots; Barnabas Wynes, Sr., 2 lots; Barnabas Wynes, Jr., 2 lots; John Elton, 3 lots; Jeremiah Vale, 3 lots; Richard Terry, 2 lots; Thomas Reeves, 2 lots; Robert Smyth, 1 lot; John Booth, 2 lots; John Corwin, 3 lots; Richard Benjamin, 2 lots; Thomas Mapes, 3 lots; Philemon Dickeson, 2 lots; Benjamin Horton, 2 lots; Widow Cooper, 3 lots; Thomas Terry, 1 lot; Samuel King, 1 lot; Joseph Youngs, Jr., 1 lot; Thomas Brush, 1 lot.

The present site of the village of Greenport was originally a woodland containing thirty or forty acres, which was granted to Col. John Youngs by the New Haven General Court in 1649. Colonel Youngs later purchased land lying between Stirling Harbor and the property of Thomas Moore, and this grant and purchase, together with a grant of land which the town gave him for services in 1662, formed a total of perhaps five hundred acres.

In 1687, two hundred acres of this land was sold to William Booth. It later passed into the hands of Capt. David Webb.

Part of Capt. Webb's farm was sold at auction in 1820 to Daniel T. Terry, Esq., Silas Webb and Joshua Tuthill, who purchased it for about $2,300, intending to sell it for agricultural purposes. Greenport then in 1820, was but a farm worth less than $3,000. Ninety years have brought a wonderful change! In 1856, Greenport contained about 250 dwelling houses, perhaps eighteen stores, four or five dressmakers and milliners, three physicians, one dentist, five churches, four schools, three ship yards, four wharves, ten whaling ships, and many schooners, sloops and other vessels.

Main Street was laid out in 1827, and during the same year, a wharf was built at its foot. The first Marine railways in Greenport were erected that year also. The first house on Main Street was built by Mr. Henry Beebe, the first on First Street by Capt. Henry Merrill in 1844.

MILITARY HISTORY

THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR

It is recorded that many of the residents of Southold town left their homes to join the Continental army, and to aid in winning the independence of the colonies.

In Col. Josiah Smith's regiment of Minute Men who participated in the battle of Long Island, in August, 1776, there were two companies of Southold soldiers, the first commanded by Capt. John Bayly, and the second by Capt. Paul Reeve. First Lieut. Joshua Youngs, Second Lieut. John Tuthill and Ensign James Reeve served under Capt. Bayly; and First Lieut. John Corwin, Second Lieut. David Horton, and Ensign Nathaniel Hudson under Capt. Reeve. Isaac Reeve of Franklinville, son of James Reeve 3d of Mattituck, was the first major of the regiment. Ensign James Reeve was Major Isaac Reeve's nephew, son of James Reeve 4th, who held a captain's commission. Lieut. afterwards Major John Corwin was a Mattituck man. Ensign Nathaniel Hudson was a Mattituck or Franklinville man. Lieut. David Horton was from Cutchogue.

The following is the muster roll of Capt. Paul Reeve's Company, Southold, Aug. 5, 1776:

Capt. Paul Reeve, Lieut. John Corwin, Lieut. Joshua Benjamin, Sergt. Whelock Booth, Sergt. Nath'l Conkling, Sergt. Steers Hubbard, Corp. Jonathan Sollomon (Salmon), Corp. Constant Haven, Corp. Joshua Well, Drummer James Pershall, Fifer John F. Hudson, Nathaniel Overton, John Goldsmith, Gilbert King, John Goldsmith, Jr., Joel Overton, Richard Drake, Stephen Halsey, Joseph Cleavland, Ishmel Reeve, Icabod Case, Elijah Terry, Calvin Horton, David Benjamin, Luther Reeve, John Calvin Wells, Geo. Taylor, James Reeve, Joshua Corwin, John Griffing, Joshua Wells, Jr., Peter Downs, Jeremiah Corwin, Isaac Wells, Joshua Aldrige, Peter Hallock, Nathan Corwin, Thomas Corwin, Nathan Youngs, Nathan Corwin, Jr., Samuel Hudson, Richard Benjamin, John Hallock, Jonathan Reeve, Ruben Brown, John Terry, Nathan Benjamin, Ebenezer Hudson,

Col. Benjamin Tusten was killed at the battle of Minisink in 1781, when the Indians under Brandt gained the day, and killed many of the inhabitants of Goshen (Griffith's Journal, p. 81). Capt. John Wood was present at the battle but escaped with his life (Ibid).

James Griffin was noticed by his fellow soldiers for his coolness and courage at the battle of Long Island. He served in the Continental Army about fifteen months, when his enlistment expired. After his return to Long Island he had constantly to be on guard against the British and Tories quartered not far from his house.

His son, the aged historian, Augustus Griffin, in his "Journal" tells the following story of an adventure which befell him one evening about the first of August, 1778 (?):

'It being a severe rain storm, wind N.N.E., my father ventured in consequence of the storm, to lodge at home with his family, satisfying himself that the storm of wind and rain would secure him rest unmolested one night. It proved sadly otherwise. About midnight the house was surrounded! An enraged, armed file of soldiers demanded instant admittance, or they would break in. They appeared to be excited by drink, as their manners would much more become savages than civilized men. They demanded with shameful oaths the body of my father, dead or alive. While in great commotion in searching below stairs, and threatening what they would do with the rebel after he was secured, my father under great excitement, was trying to effect his escape by getting a chance to jump from a chamber window. This was a perilous undertaking, as there was a guard of mounted men stationed around the house; but there was no time to be lost. He flew to the north window which was open; there he saw a man with his sword drawn, sitting on his horse under the window! Who can depict his feelings at this moment; when these infuriated desperadoes were now at the foot of the stairs about to mount to the chamber, where he stood at the head of the stairs at the window. At this awful moment the guard rode round the corner of the house, we suppose to keep a little more out of the wind and rain; my father jumped to the ground, a distance of near twenty feet; as they arrived at the chamber, he was at liberty, on terra-firma, and no bones broke.

"Amidst this storm he escaped.... A Mrs. Jerusha Corwin, assisting my mother at the time, was made the instrument, through God's goodness, of preserving my father.... Perfectly cool and collected, with a smile, she showed them (the marauders) every room and closet below, previous to going up stairs. Her utmost art was here exerted to give my father time to escape through the window."

Thomas Vail, who taught school at Southold in 1781, while on his way to that village was taken prisoner by Captain Simcoe of the British army, who, after detaining him a short time, released him. Young Vail served for a short time in the American frigate Confederacy. (Griffin's Journal, p. 105.)

Another Revolutionary story in Griffin's Journal runs as follows: "In those seasons of trial and peril, Peter (Griffin of Southold) was owner and master of a fine sailing sloop.... Once in the autumn of 1776, he arrived safe in Oysterpond Harbor in the morning. After landing, he proceeded to the inn of Aunt Hannah Brown, as she was called in those days, who kept an inn.... Soon after he and his men had seated themselves at the table, a child came running into the room, and screaming at the top of its lungs, 'The troops are coming; the troops are coming!' And, sure, they were within half a mile, on horseback. Captain Griffin and his men immediately ran across the fields to his small boat, then at the landing. They launched her and boarded the vessel about the time the troops reached the shore, within twenty-five rods of the vessel. They drew up abreast, dismounted, and gave Griffin's sloop the contents of their guns. Before they could reload, Griffin, who was a marksman, took from the cabin his old King's arms, and, without ceremony, returned the fire. At this, they, in much confusion, took refuge behind the nearest house.... He made several shots at them, which kept them skulking and dodging until he could weigh anchor and be off. A year or so after this, Captain Griffin lost his vessel, being captured by the English sloop-of-war Swan."

Dr. John Gardiner of Southold, in the war, was sometime surgeon's mate on one of the American frigates. (Griffin's Journal, p. 128.) Benjamin King was appointed to the command of a privateer. (Ibid, p. 132.) Christopher Tuthill was at the battle of Long Island. (Ibid, p. 226.) Barnabas Tuthill, a major in the war, died about 1781. David Griffin was a Revolutionary soldier, and Peter Griffin, his brother, died on board the British prison ship at Wallabout, Brooklyn. (Ibid, p. 168.) Silas Vail, when about fifteen years of age, was taken prisoner and confined in New York. (Ibid, p. 174.) The day succeeding that on which the British burnt New London, in September, 1781, and massacred the garrison at Fort Griswold, Groton, many of them crossed the Sound to Long Island. A large number landed near Orient Point, and travelled up the road toward Orient Village, insulting and persecuting the native residents.

Throughout the entire period of war, the people of Southold were often subjected to indignities and persecution by the British and Tories on Long Island. Many stirring tales have been handed down from generation to generation of the hardships and suffering endured during the war, of the bravery and fortitude of the people here and their loyalty to the American cause.

WAR OF 1812

Col. Benjamin Case of Southold commanded the military post at Sag Harbor. At that time he held the commission of major. Capt. Noah Terry and Capt. Joshua Fleet served at the post also. Phineas Egerton fought in this war.

THE CIVIL WAR

WAR WITH SPAIN

Joseph O'Rourke, Mattituck, 8th U. S. Infantry, died in the Philippines.

CHURCH HISTORY

The Rev. John Youngs, first pastor of the ancient Southold church, and leader of the little band of Englishmen who settled here in the early part of the seventeenth century, probably came to New Haven in 1638. The Rev. Dr. Whitaker of Southold writes that it may be supposed that Mr. Youngs belonged to St. Margaret's of Reydon in the Hundred of Blything, in Suffolk, England. It is stated by Charles B. Moore, Esq., that Mr. Youngs "had the official record of being forbidden passage in the Mary Ann of Yarmouth—the vessel in which he proposed to sail in 1637 from Yarmouth to Salem, with Mrs. Ames, and with his own wife and children. Some of his parishioners came in that vessel, and probably his family, for they soon arrived."

"He appeared at Salem, Massachusetts, at the same time with the Widow Ames and her sons. Lands were voted to be given to him if he would stay at Salem, and also to her, and to the Widow Payne, who, with others, came over in the Mary Ann when he was stopped. Mr. Youngs did not stay long at Salem, but appeared soon at New Haven with Mr. Davenport." (N. Y. Gen. and Biog. Record, Vol. 3, p. 164, Vol. 4, p. 16.)

Dr. Whitaker believes that these facts make it highly probable that the Rev. Mr. Youngs was a kinsman of the Vicar of Reydon in Suffolk, England, and that Southold, Long Island, was named from Southould or Southwold, England.

The church in Southold was organized August 21, 1639. Both church and town were in the closest relations with New Haven. The basis on which the church was originally organized, was Congregational, and it retained that form for one hundred and ninety-two years. April 18, 1832, it united with the Presbytery.

The first church edifice was built in the central square of the town, on the highest ground in the settlement. Mr. Youngs was assigned a lot near the centre of the town, convenient to the church edifice. His possessions were ample, in comparison with those of his fellow townsmen. Shortly before his death, which occurred Feb. 24, 1672 (N. S.), he conveyed motts of his lands to his children. The pastor's grave was made near the church. It is surrounded by a substantial wall which supports a massive horizontal slab on which is inscribed a brief record of death, age and character.

The second pastor of the First Church of Southold was the Rev. Joshua Hobart. He was the son of the Rev. Peter Hobart, and was born in England. He came to America with his parents, studied at Harvard where he graduated in 1650, went to Barbadoes in 1655, and there married Margaret Vassal, daughter of William Vassal. He went to London, but returned to New England in 1669. After the death of his wife Margaret, he married Mary Rainsford at Boston, Jan. 16, 1671-2. He became pastor of the church at Southold, Oct. 7, 1674, and died here in February, 1716-7.

The third pastor in Southold was the Rev. Benjamin Woolsey. He was born at Jamaica, the second son of Capt. George Woolsey, Jr., and his wife Sarah, Nov. 19, 1687. He graduated from Yale in the class of 1709. Five years later he was married to Abigail, daughter of John and Mary (Whitehead) Taylor of Oyster Bay.

He was installed pastor of the Southold church in July, 1720. He continued to minister to the people here for sixteen years.

In 1720, the formation of a church at Mattituck, and the prospective formation of one at Orient, made an essential change in the conditions of the town.

Accordingly, in the Town Meeting of 1720, Capt. Reeve, Capt. Booth and Benjamin Youngs were chosen to divide the parish lands, that each minister might improve them in proportion according to the first purchase. The Town Records do not indicate the method and effect of the division.

In 1736, the Rev. Benjamin Woolsey removed from Southold to the estate of his wife, in Oyster Bay township. For the next twenty years he preached the gospel at his own expense in various parishes. He died Aug. 15, 1756.

For two years following the close of the Rev. Mr. Woolsey's pastorate the Southold church had no pastor. On the 26th of October, 1738, however, the Rev. James Davenport was ordained and installed pastor. The Rev. Mr. Davenport was the son of the Rev. John Davenport, and was born in Stamford, Conn., in 1710. He graduated at Yale in 1732. He continued as pastor in Southold until 1744. He died while pastor of the New Side Presbyterian church of Hopewell, New Jersey.

The Rev. William Trook, who came here from Connecticut, was installed pastor at Southold Sept. 21, 1748. His ministry was short. Succeeding pastors during the next hundred years were: Rev. John Storrs, Aug. 15, 1763 (absent Aug. 1, 1776-June, 1782); dismissed April 13, 1787; Nehemiah Baldwin Cook (supply); Rev. Elam Potter, November, 1792-Jan. 5, 1794 (died); Rev. Joseph Hazzard, June 7, 1797-April, 1806, died 1817; Rev. Jonathan Huntting of Easthampton, June, 1806-Aug. 27, 1828; (church membership increased from 56 to 104); Rev. William Fuller, 1830-June, 1833 (56 added to church membership); Rev. Nehemiah B. Cook, 1833-5 (supply); Rev. Ralph Smith, November, 1835-July 15, 1838 (temporarily absent), continued as a supply till December, 1840 (19 added to church); Rev. Alonzo Welton, November, 1841-May, 1844 (46 added); Rev. George F. Wiswell, June 18, 1845—. In 1845 there were 134 members. The present pastor is the Rev. Wm. H. Lloyd, there are about 155 members, and the value of the church property is about $25,000.

The Southold Universalist church was erected in 1836. The parsonage was built in 1901 and the parish house in 1910. Rev. William H. Murray has been pastor since 1899. He is a native of Troy, N. Y., and a graduate of St. Lawrence University, class of 1896, and of the Canton Theological School, 1897. The church membership is more than forty and the value of the property is about $6,500.

The earliest Methodist society in Southold Village was organized in 1794. A small meetinghouse was erected not long afterwards. The present membership is about 160, the value of the property about $15,500. The present pastor is the Rev. W. C. Blakeman.

St. Patrick's Catholic Church was organized in 1854. There are about 300 parishioners and forty children in the Sunday school. The value of the property is about $24,000. The Rev. Father E. A. Holley is the present pastor.

ORIENT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

In the early part of 1718, David Youngs gave a lot of land at Oysterponds (Orient) for the erection of a meetinghouse (Town Records, Book C, p. 67). Seven years later the meetinghouse was built, and it continued to be used for public worship until 1818. There was no organized church in Orient, however, for many years, indeed until about the year 1735, when the Rev. Jonathan Barber was pastor of the church.

The Rev. Mr. Barber remained in charge of the church until some time during the decade 1750-1760. He was succeeded by Rev. Wm. Adams. November, 1758-May, 1759. During the next one hundred years, the following were pastors of the church: Revs. Joseph Lee, d., Lyme, Conn.; John Davenport, d., New Jersey, 1821; Alexander Coddle, 1785-88; Nehemiah B. Cook, 1790; Isaac Overton, 1794 and 1796 (occasionally here); John Crane, 1799; Emerson Foster, 1801-5 or 6; Rev. Mr. Anderson, 1807; Ezra Haynes, 1808-13; Rev. Mr. Smith, 1814; Nathan Dickerson, 1815; Thos. Deverel or de Verell, here a little more than a year, until 1819 or 1820; Jonathan Robertson, 1824-8; Phineas Robertson, 1828-33; Reuben Porter, 1835-7; Smith Gamage, 1837-9; Daniel Beers, 1839-44; Phineas Blakeman, 1846-8; Henry Clark, 1849-55.

The Congregational Church membership in Orient is about 150, and the value of the church property is $15,000. The Rev. Wm. Y. Terry is the present pastor.

METHODISTS—ORIENT

The first Methodist minister who came to Oysterponds (Orient) to remain any considerable time was the Rev. John Finnagan, who preached here late in the autumn of 1802. His work was productive of much good, and when he left the settlement in April, 1803, he had succeeded in winning many to his church.

After Mr. Finnagan's departure few Methodist preachers came until about 1820, when the Rev. Cyrus Foss preached here frequently.

Other Methodist preachers and pastors since that time have been the Revs. Oliver Amernan. John Lucky, Theron Osborne, James Rawson, Charles B. King, George Hollis, Bazalel How, James Bouton, Francis C. Hill, Levi S. Weed, Nathan Tibbals.

It was in June, 1836, that the corner stone of the first Methodist meetinghouse was laid in Orient. The present pastor is the Rev. J. W. Eggleston, the church membership is about 70, and the value of the property is $10,000.

GREENPORT CHURCHES

A Baptist church, probably the first of that denomination on the East End, was organized early last century by settlers from Connecticut and Rhode Island, who came to this town about the year 1810. Services were held in various places, from East Marion to Cutchogue. A meetinghouse was built about the year 1833 at the head of Main Street, Greenport, but in 1844 it was moved to its present site. Eleven years later the church was enlarged. The first pastors were the Rev. Mr. James, Rev. Wm. Knapp, Rev. Alvan Ackley (came in 1838).

The present pastor of the First Baptist Church is the Rev. Charles A. Barwise, who was born in Manchester, England, in 1870. He received his collegiate education at Englefield College, London. He came to this country in 1887, and engaged in the wholesale coffee business. He entered the ministry in 1907. He served as assistant pastor of the second church of Rochester, N. Y., and graduated from the Rochester Seminary in 1910. He served the church at East Pembroke, N. Y., for a time, coming to Greenport in May of the present year. The oldest member of the church is Capt. George Tuttle, Front Street, who is chairman of the board of trustees.

The Greenport Presbyterian Church was organized Feb. 7, 1833, and the meetinghouse was dedicated Dec. 3, 1835. The first settled pastor was the Rev. Daniel Beers, who served from Dec. 2, 1835, to Jan. 31, 1839. Prior to his ministry, however, Rev. Alfred Ketcham supplied the church for two years. The Rev. Wm. Huntting was a stated supply for two or three years. Rev. J. A. Saxton, the second settled pastor, served from June 7, 1843, to April 15, 1845. Rev. John Woodbridge succeeded him. The present pastor is the Rev. Herman C. Fox, a native of Philadelphia and a graduate of Princeton and Muhlenberg College, Penn. His former pastorates were the Clinton Street Emmanuel and Harper Memorial Presbyterian churches in Philadelphia, and the First Church of Freehold, N. J. Mr. Fox became pastor of the Greenport church in July, 1908.

The Congregational Church Society was established in 1839. In 1845, there were 15 members. A church edifice was erected in 1848.

The first Catholic church was built in 1856. The present church was erected in 1883. During the summer of 1910 the church was renovated, and the church property greatly improved, largely through the initiative and enterprise of the present pastor, the Rev. Father Charles A. Gibney. There are about 600 parishioners, and the value of the church property is about $20,000.

The Methodist Episcopal Church was organized about the year 1844. It was partially destroyed by fire in 1847. The present church was erected in 1848. There are now about 200 members, the value of the church property is about $14,250.

St. Peter's German Ev. Lutheran Church was formed in 1868. The present building was erected in 1879. The present pastor is the Rev. Henry Reumann, the membership is about 36, and the value of the church property about $5,500.

The Episcopal Church was organized in Greenport in 1863, and the church edifice was erected two years later. The present pastor is the Rev. Chas. A. Jessup, the church membership about 500, and the value of the church property $10,000.

The Synagogue, Congregational Tiferetle Israel, was erected in 1903.

CUTCHOGUE

A church was erected at Cutchogue in 1732. The Rev. Ebenezer Gould was the first or one of the first ministers to preach in the settlement. He had been pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Greenwich, New Jersey, from 1728 to 1740, and came to Long Island during the latter year.

The Rev. Thomas Paine was ordained pastor of this church, Oct. 24, 1750. The third pastor of whom we have found a record was the Rev. Zechariah Greene, who came in 1786, and was ordained June 28, 1787. He was dismissed and removed to Brookhaven in 1797.

From that time until 1810, the church had no settled pastor, but on May 2d of the latter year, Rev. Lathrop Thompson was installed. He remained here until Aug. 29, 1826, when he returned to Vermont. Rev. Ezra Youngs, a lineal descendant from the first minister in Southold, served as stated supply with the exception of one year, from 1828, certainly until 1845. The present pastor is the Rev. F. Griswold Beebe. There are about 140 members.

The first Methodist services in Cutchogue were held, probably, about the year 1825. In 1829 a meetinghouse was erected. The present pastor is Rev. John T. Hamilton, the church membership is about 143, and the value of the property about $5,000.

The Catholic Church of the Sacred Heart was organized about the year 1872. There are about 325 resident parishioners, and the value of the church property is $25,000. The present pastor is the Rev. John B. Lyle.

MATTITUCK

“ ‘In 1715, a half acre of land, as a site for a church and an acre and a half adjoining, for a burying ground, were given by James Reeve. The conveyance bears date Nov. 7, 1715, and in the following year a house of worship was erected, by Nathaniel Warner, master builder.’ ” “Shortly after, a church was organized, and the Rev. Joseph Lamb became the pastor....The private record already referred to (Prime's History of Long Island, p. 142) says: ‘Joseph Lamb, ordained Dec. 4, 1717.’ From a monument in the graveyard, it appears that Mrs. Lamb died here in April, 1829. Mr. Lamb left the island some years afterwards and was settled at Baskingridge, N. J., where he died, in 1749.”

June 10, 1752, Rev. Joseph Parks became pastor of the church. He remained until Feb. 11, 1756. The following ministers served the church during the next ninety years: Rev. Nehemiah Barker, June, 1756-March 10, 1772; Rev. Jesse Ives, Oct. 14, 1772 (one year); Rev. John Davenport, June 4, 1775 (stated supply for two years); Rev. Benj. Goldsmith, 1777-1810; Rev. Benj. Bailey, Nov. 6, 1811-May 18, 1816; Rev. Nathaniel Reeve (stated supply), 1817-1823; Rev. A. A. Luce (stated supply), June 25-five years and June, 1830 to 1835, served Union parish (Mattituck and Aquebogue) exclusively; Rev. Jonathan Huntling (supply one year); Mr. L. C. Gilbert (supply two years); Rev. Abraham Luce, Jan. 1, 1839 (stated supply until 1845).

A new church was erected at Mattituck in 1830.

The next pastor after the Rev. Mr. Luce was Rev. James T. Hamlin, ordained and installed, Nov. 4, 1847. He served until Oct. 1, 1879, when he was made Pastor Emeritus. He occupied the parsonage a period of nearly forty years. His death occurred in 1892.

Six ministers have succeeded Mr. Hamlin. Rev. Wm. Hedges (stated supply for four years); Rev. Geo. R. Garretson, June 27, 1883-July 1, 1887; Rev. Wm. G. Woodbridge (stated supply from March 1, 1889, for three years); Rev. James W. Hillman (supplied in 1891, and served as pastor June 20, 1892-Feb. 9, 1894); Rev. R. H. Wallace (supplied one year).

The present pastor is the Rev. Charles E. Craven, who became stated supply Sept. 1, 1895. He graduated from Princeton in 1881, and Princeton Theological Seminary in 1886. His first pastorates were at Birmingham, Pa., and Downingtown, Pa. Mr. Craven is the author of the “History of Mattituck.”

The Methodist Episcopal Church, Mattituck, was organized in 1853. The church was under the care of the pastor of the Cutchogue church for a few years, during which time the pastors were the Revs. O. C. Lane, G. W. Allen, T. G. Osborne and O. C. Lane. Since the separation from the Cutchogue church, the pastors have been the Revs. F. G. Howell, W. A. Layton, O. C. Lane, D. B. Vosseller, H. F. Nichols, J. E. Perine, I. S. Yerks, George Leavens, John Nash, Julius Nelson, E. P. Alvord, H. A. Goering, D. O. Osterheld, R. W. Thompson, G. W. Humphreys, W. W. Weller, J. H. Kinney and J. A. Brodford. The present church edifice was erected in 1896.

The Protestant Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, Mattituck, was organized in 1877 as a mission under the care of the Bishop of Long Island. A church edifice was erected and was opened for divine service in July, 1879.

The rectors of St. James' Church in Riverhead have had charge of the Mattituck church. Rev. Thomas Cook was in charge until his death in 1884. During the next ten years the Rev. Robert Weeks was the rector. He was assisted by Rev. C. A. Jessup and Rev. W. Smith. The Rev. R. M. Edwards took charge in 1894, and was succeeded by Rev. G. W. West in 1897. In 1902, the Rev. W. A. Wasson became rector.

History of Shelter Island

Shelter Island, the smallest but one of the most important townships in Suffolk County, is situated at the Eastern end of Long Island, between the North fluke—ending at Orient Point, and the South fluke—ending at Montauk Point. It is six miles long by four wide, and in several places rises to a greater elevation from the level of the sea than does any other part of Eastern Long Island.

It is one of the most attractive and popular watering places in this state, and is unexcelled in this section for healthfulness, variety of scenery, and facilities for vacation enjoyment and recreation.

Shelter Island may be reached by the Montauk Steamboat Company, Pier P, East River, New York, and by the Long Island Railroad, from the foot of East 34th street, New York City, and Brooklyn, Flatbush Avenue station, which connects at Greenport with the ferry Menantic for this town.

The island is connected, also, by daily steamer, with New London, Conn., and Sag Harbor.

EARLY PROPRIETARY AND SETTLEMENT

In the year 1637, the Earl of Sterling, who had received from the English colony of Plymouth a grant of the whole of Long Island and the adjacent islands, commissioned James Farrett to act as his agent in disposing of this territory. In return for his services Farrett was to receive ten thousand of the best acres in the domain.

The agent sailed from England early in 1638, and having examined the entire territory, chose for his own share Shelter Robbins Island.

Mr. Farrett soon disposed of the property to Mr. Stephen Goodyear, a well-to-do merchant and later deputy governor in the New Haven colony.

The island remained in the possession of Mr. Goodyear until 1851, when he sold it to a company consisting of Messrs. Thomas Middleton, Thomas Rouse, Nathaniel Sylvester and Constant Sylvester, who paid for the land, "sixteen hundred pounds of good merchantable muscovado sugar."

Of these four gentlemen, the only one who settled in Shelter Island was Nathaniel Sylvester. He was joined sometime later by his brothers, Giles and Joshua, neither of whom remained here long. It is believed that the date of the arrival of this first white settler, Nathaniel Sylvester, was 1652.

Mr. Sylvester had married Miss Grissel Brinley, daughter of Thomas Brinley, Esq., Auditor General of the Revenues of King Charles I. and II. She accompanied him on the eventful voyage to this country. Several servants and some slaves from Barbadoes came with them.

Not long after their settlement on Shelter Island, the Indians disputed their title and one of their number, Checkanoe, appeared before the Commissioners of the United Colonies of New England, Sept. 2, 1652, to enter a protest. The following record is self-explanatory: "Whereas we were informed by Checkanoe, an Indian of Menhansick Island, on behalf of the Indian inhabitants of said island, that they are disturbed in their possession by Captain Middleton and his agents, upon pretense of a purchase from Mr. Goodyear, of New Haven, who bought the same of one Mr. Forrett, a Scotchman, and by vertue thereof, the said Indians are threatened to be forced off the said island, and to seek an habitation where they can get it; the said Indians deny that they sold the said island to the said Forrett, and that the said Forrett was a poor man, not able to purchase it, but the said Indians gave to said Forrett some part of the said island, and marked it out by some trees; yet never that themselves be deprived of their habitation there, and therefore they desired that the Commissioners (they being their tributaries) to see they have justice in the premises, the Commissioners therefore, in regard the said Mr. Goodyear is not present, and at their court, to hear the complaint of the said Indians, and to satisfy the said Indians if they can, if not to certify the Commissioners at the next meeting, the truth of the promises, that some further order may be taken therein as shall be meet."

It became necessary for Capt. Middleton and his associates to purchase Shelter Island from the Indians. Capt. Nathaniel Sylvester became in time owner of the entire island.

During the persecution of the Quakers in New England, Shelter Island became a place of refuge for the Friends, a number of whom came here.

The Rev. Mr. Mallman, in his historical papers, after naming the early proprietors of the island as follows: The Manhatt Indians, King Charles I., Earl of Sterling, James Farrett, Stephen Goodyear, and Messrs. Middleton, Rouse, Nathaniel and Constant Sylvester, writes, "Now another name is introduced as part owner, namely, that of Ensign John Booth, who with Captain Sylvester made the purchase from the Indians in December, 1652. It may be that this John Booth simply represented Messrs. Middleton, Rouse and Constant Sylvester, as there is another paper on record bearing the date of 1656, which implies that Thomas Rouse was still the owner of one-fourth of the island, that paper being a release of his quarter of the island to Thomas Middleton for John Booth."

In 1873, Capt. Nathaniel Sylvester became sole proprietor of the island.

Eleven children were born to Capt. Sylvester and his wife, six sons and five daughters, named Giles, Nathaniel, Constant, Peter, Benjamin, Joshua, Grissel, Patience, Eliza, Ann and Mercy. Grissel married James Loyd of Boston, Patience, Benjamin L'Hommedieu, an exiled Huguenot who had settled in Southold, Eliza, Jonathan Brown of Shelter Island. Of the sons, three died childless, leaving their inheritance to Giles, the eldest, who, in time, became owner of four-fifths of the island, the other fifth being inherited by the second son, Nathaniel, who lived at that time in Newport, R. I.

In 1695, William Nicoll, a very prominent and influential man in New York, bought of Giles Sylvester, one-fifth of Shelter Island, and on the death of the latter in 1704, Mr. Nicoll inherited another fourth of the estate, which made him owner of two-fifths of Shelter Island, including Sachem Neck.

About the year 1698, Nathaniel Sylvester 2d sold 1,000 acres to Mr. George Havens, who came here with his family, consisting of his wife and seven children, from Rhode Island.

The little community on Shelter Island continued to grow until in 1730 there were twenty men residing here. Most of these were heads of families.

Their names are as follows: William Nicoll, John Havens, Samuel Hudson, George Havens, Elisha Payne, Joel Bowditch, Abraham Parker, Edward Havens, Samuel Vail, Thomas Conkling, Edward Gilman, Brinley Sylvester, Jonathan Havens, Joseph Havens, Noah Tuthill, Sylvester L'Hommedieu, Henry Havens, Samuel Hopkins, John Bowditch, Daniel Brown.

These men organized Shelter Island into a municipality, and are justly called the "Founders of the Town of Shelter Island."

William Nicoll, who was chosen to be the first Supervisor of the Town, was the second son of William Nicoll. He was born in 1702, graduated from Yale in 1724, became an eminent lawyer and came to reside on Sachem's Neck about the year 1726. He was a very prominent statesman in New York in Colonial days. It is interesting to note that three William Nicolls succeeded each other as owners of the estate, also as representatives in the Colonial Assembly, the first serving twenty-one years, during which time, for sixteen years, he was Speaker of the House; the second for twenty-nine years, Speaker for nine years of that time; and the third for nine years, or until the Colonial Assembly was dissolved.

John Havens, one of the first two Town Assessors, fourth son of George and Eleanor Thurston Havens, Town Assessor, 1730, 4, 9 and 44, Overseer of Poor, 1735, 7 and 43; in 1744 moved to the Town of Brookhaven, extensive land owner, died in 1750.

Samuel Hudson, son of Jonathan and Sarah Hudson, who came from Lyme, Conn.

Mr. Grissel L'Hommedieu, served as County Clerk of Suffolk, 1722-30; in 1746 with his brother Jonathan joined Capt. James Fanning's company of volunteers and served in expedition against Canada; d. Oct. 12, 1781.

Edward Havens, son of Geo. and Mary Havens, m. Desire Terry in 1724; first Collector of Town. George Havens was his brother.

Elisha Payne, son of Cornelius and Constant (Havens) Payne, who owned 200 acres on Shelter Island; served as Town Constable and Collector in 1740 and 1748; m. in 1748, Deliverance Tuthill; d. 1761.

Sylvester L'Hommedieu, son of Benj. and Patience L'Hommedieu of Southold; m. Elizabeth More; served as Collector and Constable in 1732; d. March 9, 1788; buried at Southold.

Henry Havens, oldest son of John and Sarah Havens, received as a bequest from his father, John Havens, 370 acres of land on Shelter Island; m. Abigail Tuthill, sister of Noah Tuthill; was a town officer for more than ten years.

Thomas Conkling, son of John and Sarah (Horton) Conkling of Southold, m. Rachel Moore; served town as Assessor, Constable and Overseer of the Poor during the period 1739-61; d. 1782, aged 87.

Jonathan Havens, second son of George and Eleanor (Thurston) Havens, b. Jamestown, R. I., 1681; received from his father 200 acres on Shelter Island; in 1707, m. Hannah Brown; Assessor for 12 years, Overseer of Poor 2 years, Supervisor 1 year; d. Aug. 5, 1748, aged about 88.

Joseph Havens, son of Jonathan (above), b. 1714, m. (1) Mary Watts, (2) Jemina Glover; Constable and Collector, 1737; moved to Southampton.

Noah Tuthill, 3d son of Deacon Daniel and Mehetable (Horton) Tuthill, b. Orient; m. Hannah Tuthill; town officer; d. 1766.

Joel Bowditch, came perhaps from Sag Harbor or vicinity; town officer many years; d. 1743.

John Bowditch, perhaps son of Joel; town officer.

Samuel Hopkins, son of Wm. and Rebecca Hopkins; b. Shelter Island, 1710; carpenter and mason; town officer, 1733; 1743 to 1756, lived at Wading River; in 1757, bought property at Millers Place, moved there and lived there until his death, 1790.

Abraham Parker, said to have been born in Yorkshire, Eng.,

m. probably twice, (1) Sarah Hudson, (2) Mary, wid. of Jonathan Hudson; town officer, 1731, '36, '38 and '42; d. March, 1768.

Daniel Brown, son of Daniel and Frances (Watson) Brown, b. Nov. 15, 1710; Supervisor twenty years; in 1747, enlisted for expedition against Canada; in 1775-6, a member of the First, Second and Third Provincial Congresses.

Samuel Vail, son of John and Grace Vail; m. Hannah Petty, 1723; town officer, 1735, 1741; moved to Orange County.

Brinley Sylvester, son of Nathaniel 2d and Margaret (Hobert) Sylvester of Easthampton, where b. Nov. 28, 1694; m. Mary Burroughs, dau. of Thomas Burroughs of New York, Dec. 2, 1718; became owner of about one-half of Shelter Island; moved from Rhode Island to this town; held public offices for more than twenty years; Associate Justice of the Court of General Sessions; Surrogate of the County; a Christian gentleman.

The ancestors of these "town fathers" were English, Welsh, and in one instance, French.

MILITARY ACCOUNT

During the Revolution, the men of Shelter Island, with one or possibly two exceptions, were loyal patriots, ready to suffer any hardship or sorrow for liberty, and the devotion which this town gave to the American cause was not exceeded by that of any town in this State.

Thomas Dering, Henry P. Havens and Capt. Daniel Brown were members of the various Provincial Congresses that met in 1775 and 1776.

As early as the summer of 1775, British ships appeared in the nearby waters, and during the progress of the war as many as twenty-one ships lay at one time in Gardiner's Bay. The names of some of the vessels were as follows: The London, 120 guns; Grand Duke, 120 guns; Royal Oak, 100 guns; Bedford, 100 guns; Centurion, 80 guns; Robust, 74 guns; Royal George, 74 guns, and the Culloden, 74 guns.

The defeat of the American forces at the Battle of Long Island in August, 1776, gave the British complete possession of Long Island and the adjacent islands, which they held under martial rule from 1776 to 1783.

During these years the people of Shelter Island like those of Southold, suffered greatly from the cruelty and depredations of the British and Tories, who robbed and maltreated them frequently during the seven years of the war. According to Historians Woods and Mallmann, "The administration of justice was suspended and the British army became a sanctuary for crimes and robbery, the grossest offences being atoned for by enlistment therein. Those who had served in any wise in the cause of liberty had to fly into the American lines for safety, while those who remained at home were harassed and plundered of their property, the inhabitants of Suffolk County being perpetually exposed to the grossest insult and abuse. They had no property of a movable kind that they could, properly speaking, call their own; they were sometimes deprived of the stock necessary to the management of their farms, and were deterred from endeavoring to produce more than a bare subsistence by the apprehension that a surplus would be wrested from them either by the military authority of the purveyor or the ruffian hand of the plunderer. The officers seized and occupied the best rooms in the houses of the inhabitants; they compelled them to furnish blankets and fuel for the soldiers, and hay and grain for their horses; they took away their cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry, and seized without ceremony and without any compensation whatever they desired to gratify their wants and wishes."

The following extract bears the date of Sept. 15, 1781: "On the evening of the 15th the British ransacked the house of Nicoll Havens on Shelter Island, took two fowling pieces, a silver hilted sword, a silver mounted hanger, some tea, etc. At Captain James Havens' they took a watch, coat, fowling piece, etc. Then they went to Widow Payne's, insulted the inmates of the house and threatened to burn it, made them produce a silver tankard, linen, a watch, a coat, and a fowling piece, etc.

It is not to be wondered at that at the close of the war, the people of this town assembled on the hills at Prospect and held a jubilee over the departure of their enemies.

WAR OF 1812

During this war as in the Revolution, British warships made Gardiner's Bay their anchorage and headquarters. Among them were the Rawesis, Maidstone, Sylph, Thunderer, Plantagenet and Boxer.

The British constantly harassed the villages along this coast, making frequent attacks on the villages and settlements.

"One night the enemy went ashore on Gull Island and threw the lamps of the lighthouse into the sea. But they paid dearly for this act of vandalism, as one of their barges ran ashore on Plum Island, resulting in its loss, together with several of its crew....Of course such wanton destruction of our beacon light had to be repaired in some way. So the Yankees bought an old square-rigged vessel, and fixing a magazine in her hold, so connected that upon raising the hatches it would explode, sailed her as near the fleet as they dared, and then under cover of darkness abandoned her. When the enemy noticed the vessel they put off in boats and brought her alongside of the fleet. Then a number of officers went aboard and started to raise the hatches, when the magazine exploded with terrific force, blowing the men into the sea to their destruction and the vessel to the bottom of the waters. The British were so incensed that they sent their barges up the Connecticut the next night and burned every vessel that they found as far up as Deep River....When peace was again restored in 1814, the people once more assembled in jubilee." (Rev. J. E. Mallman—"History"—pps. 84-5).

THE WAR OF THE REBELLION

The great struggle of the Rebellion was a severe test of the spirit and patriotism of the people of the towns in this section of the North, but as in all the former struggles the citizens here were not found wanting. Scarcely had Fort Sumter capitulated and the President's call for volunteers been received throughout the North than the names of men of Shelter Island were on the enlistment rolls, and the soldiers were ready to march to the front. Their acts of bravery were recorded on many a hard fought field during the four years' struggle. In field, in camp, in hospital, they showed their worth as men, and their bravery and heroism never can be questioned.

It is not necessary here to recount in detail the services which these men rendered in the four long years of suffering and conflict. It is all familiar to the people of this town, sons and daughters, of those who left their homes and loved ones to do their share for the cause of Liberty and Right. The people of this town knowing the record, glory in the fact that the response was ready and loyal, and that their fathers were not afraid to go forth to battle and, if necessary, to die. Let us but remember as we read the list given in the Southold historical section, that we owe what we possess to them, and, let us linger a moment over the roll of the brave, true soldiers whose names are recorded here.

CHURCH ACCOUNT

The First Presbyterian Church

The first reference to religious matters in the town records is found in the minutes of 1771: "It is voted that Messrs. William Nicoll and Nicoll Havens, inspect the accounts of those that have the care of the moneys left by Brinley Sylvester, Esq., towards the support of the gospel on this island, and to make report next town meeting."

Thompson in the second edition of his "History of Long Island" says: "The first meetinghouse was completed in 1743, and remained until 1816, when the present church was erected on the same site."

Among the first ministers to preach in the old meetinghouse was the Rev. William Adams who was chaplain to Mr. Brinley Sylvester's family. He was the son of a Connecticut clergyman and a Yale graduate. He came to this place probably in 1737, and remained until 1752. Sometime afterward he returned and was at Shelter Island when the great evangelist Whitefield visited the town in 1764. Altogether, it is thought that he ministered to the people here for more than thirty years.

For many years the church was supplied by ministers who were asked to come for one or several Sundays, but there was no settled pastor until 1806 when the Rev. Daniel Hall of Sag Harbor, the first settled pastor of the church in that village, came to Shelter Island. He served until his death in 1812.

Sept. 28, 1808, the church adopted a Confession of Faith and Covenant which was assented to by the following persons: Rev. Daniel Hall, Pastor Lucretia Hall, his wife, Ephraim King, Mehitable King, his wife, Sylvester Dering and his wife, E. Sarah Dering, Jonathan Doughlass and his wife, Abigail Doughlass, Mary Mayo, Eunice Case, Anna Boisseau, Elizabeth Havens, Abigail Sawyer, Lodowick Havens, Esther Case.

Though Congregational in form, the church leaned strongly towards the Presbyterian fold from the beginning, the preamble of its confession mentioning the Presbyterian body as its model.

In 1816, a new church edifice, the erection of which cost nearly four thousand dollars, was built on Shelter Island. During the winter of that year, there was a remarkable religious revival in this town. The Rev. Stephen Tracy, a Congregational minister, a native of Norwich, Conn., and a graduate of Princeton, preached here for six months during that period, and was instrumental in "gathering into the church the fruits of the great revival," and in building the sanctuary." The new church was dedicated July 17, 1817.

During the eight years after the death of the Rev. Daniel Hall, the church was supplied with preaching by ministers who came only occasionally.

The Rev. Richard F. Nicoll preached here in the early part of 1821. The same year the Rev. Ezra Youngs came. He continued as pastor here, with slight intermissions, from July, 1821, to the middle of the year 1828.

In 1826, the church inherited through the death of Mr. Benjamin Conkling, a legacy of $8,000. In 1834, an inventory of property belonging to the society showed that, including the legacies of Mr. Conkling and of Mr. Brinley Sylvester, the church owned personal and real estate amounting to $9,500, exclusive of the church lot and building.

At the close of the Rev. Ezra Young's ministry, in 1828, the Rev. Jonathan Huntting came to this church. He remained until the fall of 1832. He was succeeded by the Rev. Daniel M. Lord, who preached during the years 1832-4 and 1847-61.

Since 1834, except Mr. Lord, the following clergymen have been pastors of the church: Rev. Randolph Campbell, 1834-7; Rev. Anson Sheldon, 1842-7; Rev. Chas. H. Holloway, 1861-4; Rev. Thos. H. Harries, 1864-84; Rev. A. P. Bissell, D.D., Ph.D., 1884-9; Rev. Benj. F. Parliman, 1889-95; Rev. Jacob E. Mallman, 1895—.

The Rev. Mr. Mallman, the present pastor of the church, was born in Brooklyn, Sept. 29, 1858. He studied for the ministry at the school in Springfield, Mass., which is now known as the Bible Normal College, and also under the instruction of a private tutor. Later he entered Princeton Theological Seminary, from which he graduated in 1889. Prior to his call to the Shelter Island church, Mr. Mallmann served as minister in charge of Olivet Chapel, under the care of the Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian Church, and, from 1890 to the fall of 1895, as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Newtown, N. Y. Mr. Mallmann is the author of an admirable history, "Shelter Island and Its Presbyterian Church," to which we are largely indebted for the historical data on Shelter Island. The work contains seven long chapters devoted to the history of this town and its first church, and in addition to the history, complete geneological tables of the descendants of the early settlers and founders of the town.

Our Lady of the Isle Catholic Church

The Shelter Island Catholic Church, "Our Lady of the Isle," is situated on Prospect Avenue, Shelter Island Heights. It was dedicated, June 16, 1907. The church has been the recipient of many beautiful gifts, among them the Stations of the Cross, donated by Inspector Walsh, chief of police, New York City; the main altar, given by Mr. John L. Shay of Brooklyn; St. Joseph's altar, Mrs. Charles Gibbon of Brooklyn, and Sacred Heart altar, Mr. Thomas Burns of Shelter Island.

There are about three hundred parishioners, and fifty children in the Sunday school. The church property is valued at $10,000. There is no resident pastor at the present time, the church being attended from Greenport.

St. Mary's Protestant Episcopal Church

St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Shelter Island, was organized in 1872. There are at the present time about eighty-seven members, and fifty-two in the Sunday school. The present rector is the Rev. Bert Foster, D.D.

Besides the Presbyterian, Catholic and Episcopal churches, there is also a Union Chapel.

REGISTER OF Southold and Shelter Island Townships

The year-round population of the towns included in this book has been arranged in families where that arrangement has been possible. In addition to the resident living members, the names of the non-resident members are included. It should be borne in mind that this plan does not include the names of all former residents of a town, as the names of non-residents appear only when one or both of the parents are still living in the town. After the name of each non-resident will be found the present address, when such address has been given to us. Non-residents are indicated by the (*).

A married lady's maiden name appears in parentheses and when a daughter in a family has married, her name taken in marriage appears after her given name in parentheses, the name preceded by a small m, thus: (m).

Following the names of the population appear the occupations. To designate these we have used the more common abbreviations and contractions, as follows: Farmer—far; carpenter—car; railroad service—R R ser; student, a member of an advanced institution of learning—stu; pupil, a member of lower grade of schools—pl; housework—ho; laborer—lab; physician and surgeon—phy & sur; clergyman—clerg; merchant—mer; teacher—tr; blacksmith—blk; clerk—cl; bookkeeper—bk kpr; lawyer—law; mechanic—mech; machinist—mach; engineer—eng; maker—mkr; worker—wkr; work—wk; shoe shop operative—s s op; mill operative—mill op; weaver—weav; electrician—elec; painter—ptr; carriage work—carg wk; dress maker—dr mkr; insurance—ins; traveling salesman, or com-
