Directors Report January 2026

Building and Grounds

The Library was closed on Sunday January 25th and Monday January 26th due to snow. TFLC had the Library cleared out by the early afternoon on Monday. They have removed half of the speed bump and will re-install it in the Spring.

Water is still leaking into the Director's office and soaking the carpet along the back wall. All furniture has been moved away from that area, and Calvin will clean the carpet again once the snow and ice have completely melted. In the meantime, a blower is being used in the office to speed up drying. I've temporarily moved to the local history area and will keep an eye on the leak.

Some spots around the building may be hazardous due to snow and ice. On one corner of the sidewalk, ice melts during the day but refreezes when the sun moves away, creating slippery areas. We've placed cones and caution signs there and have salted repeatedly to help prevent accidents. Additionally, I've put cones over some loosened stones near the front entryway that are sticking up and could cause someone to trip.

The staff safety committee met on January 15th and is developing a streamlined disaster response plan with essential details for common emergencies. The group is also learning about the building's mechanical systems, shut-off locations, and contacts for maintenance to improve institutional knowledge and succession planning.

Programs and Services

Thank you to Jenna for covering book discussion for me on Thursday January 15th. The group discussed We'll Prescribe You Another Cat by Syou Ishida and there were 6 in attendance. Sara continues a weekly discussion of Tess of the d'Urbervilles by Thomas Hardy and will also be hosting a discussion on A Guardian and a Thief by Megha Majumdar on Thursday February 26th at 5pm. The next discussion I will be hosting is March 19th, which will be My Friends by Fredrik Backman.

Registration has opened for the Adult Winter Reading Program, which runs until March 2nd. Reading logs and supplies are available when signing up at the circulation desk.

The makerspace committee will meet in February to discuss the sublimation printer setup, makerspace policies, and equipment purchases.

I have assumed responsibility for the weekly email newsletter during Sharon's absence.

Upcoming programs and events to note:

Tai Chi Series – January 9, 16, 23, 30, February 6, 13, 20, 27, 11am

Heart Health Walk – February 6, 13, 20, 27, 9am & 10am

Take Your Child to the Library Day w/ Turtle Rescue of the Hamptons – February 7, 1pm

Hearts and Crafts: Valentine Making – February 8, 2pm
The Letter: A Message for Our Earth – February 18, 2pm
Zora Neale Hurston: Claiming a Space – February 23, 1pm
American Cookbooks with Leslie Goddard – February 26, 7pm
Talking The Bill of Rights – February 27, 6pm
Chef Rob's Irish Soda Bread (Grab & Go) – Registration opens 2/15 @ 9am
Author Talk: Savoring Time by Mary Ellen Tomaszewski – March 7, 2pm

Friends of the Library

The Friends have been awarded a grant from the H.W. Wilson Foundation; we are very grateful to the Foundation for choosing to support the Library.

The Friends have also received the Omnibus grant for 2026, which will help to support cultural programming.

Registration for the Friends Irish Tea is now open. The tea is scheduled to take place on March 12th at 12pm.

Administrative

Fluid Imagery was on site on Monday January 19th to start upgrading our equipment in the server room. New switches were installed, the rack was cleaned up, the new server was installed, and new access points were installed throughout the building. FI is still working on the change over to the new server and they have been working with staff on day-to-day issues that have been popping up.

Due to my injury the February staff meeting has been rescheduled to March 12th. The plan is to complete the Anti Sexual Harassment Training together and then have a staff charrette regarding the renovation project. I am requesting a delayed opening at 10am to accommodate both activities. The Library will open at its normal time, 9am on 2/12.

On January 22nd, the Building & Grounds Committee met to further discuss how to collect community input about a renovation. They spoke with the architect about adjusting and reducing the scope of the project, and they exchanged ideas on organizing community charrettes and setting a schedule for receiving feedback.

The Personnel & Policy Committee met on Thursday January 29th to discuss Sunday operating hours. Statistics from 2025 were reviewed and the committee is recommending no change to operating hours at this time.

I'm gathering input from department heads on an AI policy for our library. After collecting feedback, I'll draft the policy for the personnel and policy committee to review.

As we approach the period when the budget and finance committee convenes to discuss plans for the 2027 budget, I'll be preparing the same survey used last year to guide the process.

Following Monday's meeting, I'll distribute the survey to the committee. Once I receive valuable feedback, I'll be able to assemble a draft budget for presentation.

Data for the 2025 NYS Annual Report was collected using the 2024 report questions in a spreadsheet. The new reporting software will be Counting Opinions, with login access expected in February.

All association libraries that have been processing passports have been instructed to stop doing so as they are non-governmental organizations. This currently does not affect us because we do not offer passports, however it also does not bode well for the proposed partnership with the DMV regarding Real ID's.

I will be participating in Advocacy Day 2026, scheduled for Monday, February 2nd, and Tuesday, February 3rd. Advocacy Day serves as a significant opportunity for library professionals to engage with their elected officials and advocate for adequate funding for libraries within the state budget. I am submitting a request for reimbursement of the following expenses. Please note that NYLA did not arrange a hotel block for this year's event.

Hotel: $180

Mileage: $327.70 for 452 total miles

2025 Fund Balance

At the January meeting, the Board approved the allocation of the 2025 fund balance, including $2,000 to the Staff Activity Fund and $329,134.74 to the Capital Reserve Fund. Following final reconciliation, the fund balance was adjusted upward by $3.71. The corrected total fund balance is $331,138.45, resulting in a revised transfer amount of $329,138.45 to the Capital Reserve Fund. I am bringing this forward so the Board may formally amend the previously approved amount.

Adult Services Board Report - January 2026

Prepared by Sara Colichio, Head of Adult and Information Services

Summary - The new year is off to a great start. Programming attendance is steady. Programming for America's 250th has begun. The Health Fair Committee and Safety Committee have met this past month. I also attended two webinars: one on AI in libraries and the other about accessibility. We are waiting on guidance from NYS regarding our NYS annual reporting requirements since CollectConnect, Baker and Taylor's software, is no longer available. Shauna is keeping us informed as she learns more. We have dropped the magazine Practical Horseman because it is no longer available in a print format. I have added House Beautiful to our lineup starting in April of 2026. Our Freegal contract has been renewed. The Adult Winter Reading challenge has begun. Weeding and collection maintenance continue. The cost of Newsday has gone up.

*Statistics for virtual shared EEPA programs do not definitively represent the number of Mattituck-Laurel Library patrons that attended the program. Final statistics are kept by the host library but do not indicate the number of attendees by specific library. Shared programs are typically low cost and/or free for participating libraries.

Program Planning

I will be starting a new weekly classic book discussion group on 2/4. We will be discussing Tess of the D'Urbervilles by Thomas Hardy.

The adult winter reading challenge has begun. Patrons will earn 1 raffle ticket for each book they read between January 5th-March 2nd. Patrons who enjoy a challenge can also opt to complete a winter reading scavenger hunt for an extra raffle ticket. Raffle prizes include gift certificates to local businesses. Additionally, Shauna and I continue to alternate each month with a book discussion on various mainstream titles. In February, I will be hosting a book discussion on A Guardian and a Thief by Megha Majumdar.

Programming for America's 250th anniversary has already begun. In January, Martha offered Talking the Bill of Rights (via Zoom), and will be offering more patriotic programming throughout the year. Martha organized a library-wide committee for America's 250th anniversary. Martha has also ordered a cart for our heat press and sublimation printer. She has been working to get a committee established for the library's mobile makerspace. Additionally, she established a connection with Panoramica Coffee Shop and will be hosting two book discussions there in March featuring the book, I'm Not Your Muse: Uncovering the Overshadowed Brilliance of Women Artists & Visionaries by Lori Zimmer. Tai Chi was offered as a series and due to a very positive response, Martha has added another section and will be continuing it into the next newsletter cycle.

The Health Fair Committee has begun meeting and has set a tentative date of Saturday, April 25, 2026 for our 3rd annual health fair. We will continue to meet regularly to plan the details of the event. We are currently reaching out to vendors, designing a logo, and discussing swag, as well as other details.

Social Media/Marketing

Diana continues to make adult program flyers and promote via a variety of marketing platforms. Martha is in charge of the adult programming content for our e-newsletter. I submit other miscellaneous information for our e-newsletter, including book discussions, museum tickets, new services, etc. Circulation puts programs on the sandwich board outside and flyers are posted around the building. In Sharon's absence, Martha and Marissa have agreed to assist with social media accounts. Shauna will be sending out the weekly e-newsletter. I have been updating the book rivers on our website.

Adult Collection Development

I continue to order books for the adult fiction, nonfiction, paperback, large print and mystery collections. We have established a system for working with Ingram. We are finally catching up from the gap in ordering we experienced when Baker and Taylor shut down.

The circulation department, along with Eva, have been assisting me in the weeding process. I have been using Library IQ, a very helpful tool in identifying circulation patterns and statistics. We recently finished weeding large print and audiobooks and will be moving to paperbacks and fiction very soon.

Newspapers, Magazines and Electronic Resources

All newspaper, magazine and e-resource subscriptions are up to date at this time. The cost of Newsday has gone up from $343.92 every 8 weeks to $367.92 every 8 weeks. This has increased our annual subscription cost by approximately $156. Practical Horseman has discontinued their print subscription service. I have added a new magazine, House Beautiful to our EBSCO order. We will begin receiving it in April 2026. We have also signed another Freegal contract, extending our service for another year.

Museum Passes

All museum memberships are up to date at this time.

Library of Things

I continue to assist with the library of things as needed. We recently added new Karaoke CDs to our karaoke machine set.

Social Work

Unfortunately, we have been unable to secure a social work intern this semester. We have a community resources binder and webpage. We do our best to assist patrons with various needs, including Medicare assistance, caregiver support groups, and more. All staff were recently informed at Staff Development Day about social work and other services available to all Suffolk County patrons via the Central Library at Patchogue-Medford Library. We have begun promoting those services as well.

Miscellaneous

- Sharon is out on an extended leave of absence. The reference department is working to divide her responsibilities and cover her shifts while she is out.
- The EDI and Safety committee continue to meet regularly.
- Marissa has reached out to the high school and advertised a teen volunteer position to assist us with the little free food pantry. The Girl Scouts troop 1983 helped us collect food, and now we need to organize it, store it and put it out in the pantry regularly.
- Martha met with the programming staff at Cutchogue-New Suffolk and Southold Free Libraries on Jan. 8th. She also attended the East End Programmers' Association meeting on January 13th.

Mattituck-Laurel Library
Teen Services Board Report – January 2026
Prepared by Marissa Timm, Teen Services Librarian

Summary – This month, I focused on planning spring and summer programs, community service opportunities, and teen events. I organized the teen collection and space, addressed community service needs, and restocked Creation Station materials. I collaborated with community partners such as the Mattituck School District, CAST, and the Southold senior center. I worked with fellow teen librarians, attended training sessions, assisted with adult services, tech appointments and programs, participated in library committees, created custom 3D-printed bookmarks and special requests. I remain committed to learning and providing valuable services to our teen community.

Community Service – Grab-and-go community service kits continue to be available on an ongoing basis and remain very popular, with a steady influx of students utilizing them. Teens have been engaging in meaningful activities such as creating dog and cat toys, writing letters to seniors, veterans, and hospitalized children, decorating kindness rocks, and making bookmarks

Bookmarks: 32 Letters: 10

Student Library Assistant- Draco, our student intern from last year, was recently hired as our new Student Library Assistant. I will be his day to day and task supervisor. Similar to the internship, Draco will be helping the library across departments, including circulation, reference, teens and children's.

Little Free Food Pantry- I created a flyer and formal volunteer position for a new Little Free Food Pantry Helper. A volunteer has been selected and is scheduled to begin next month.

Teen Space-For January I updated the Teen Book Display to highlight some of our new fiction books. The guessing jar for this month was marbles. A total of six teens participated. The DIY grab-and-go kits are consistently available in the Creation Station. Flyers are regularly updated, with the most recent additions featuring information about upcoming programs. I also continue to update the community service and events board in Teen Space to keep teens informed. Additionally, mini canvases designed and donated by teens are now displayed, adding a seasonal touch to the space for the winter. Winter canvases: 14 Cutting boards: 1 Coloring pages: 5

Mattituck Cutchoque Union Free School District-This month, I collaborated with the high school librarian, Anna, who provided an updated reading list for the English classes. I reviewed and adjusted the library's corresponding collection, weeding outdated titles and ordering new ones as needed. As always, I maintain regular communication with school librarians, keeping them informed about upcoming teen programs and community service opportunities to ensure broader outreach and engagement.

Friends of the Library Scholarship- I created the application and promoted the Friends of the Library Annual Scholarship to graduating seniors from Mattituck and Laurel, ensuring outreach to both the high school and the broader community.

Teen Space Survey- The Teen Space Survey continues to be available to get feedback from the teens about what they think of the current teen space and any suggestions they have for future improvements. I have notified teens in the community as well as both the schools. I keep the surveys anonymous and just request that they notify me when they submit a survey in order to earn community service. We have received 39 responses so far. I will continue to try and implement their feedback from this survey. I am running a in person program next month where I hope to get more feedback.

Print Newsletter-I submitted the content for the March/April newsletter. I am now working on the content for the May/June newsletter.

Teen Collection - Monthly book orders continue after reviewing School Library Journal, Publisher's Weekly and Kirkus. I also continue to take books off new. I am continuing to change the bookshelf displays to showcase books in the collection that have low circulation stats. I got these numbers from running statistical reports. I also updated the Teen Services page on our website to showcase the new titles and take off old ones. I finished creating updated readers' advisory bookmarks, curating titles based on teen interests such as Great Graphic Novels, Read It before You Stream It, and As Seen on BookTok. I also recently updated our reading list collection.

Weeding- Using LibraryIQ, I organized lists of the collection and began selecting titles for weeding. This process will continue into next month.

Social media/Marketing- For this month I have taken over submitting the content for the Teen Instagram Page. I have continued promoting Throwback Thursday social media series to highlight and reflect on teen programs and events. Regular email blasts are sent to inform patrons about community service opportunities and upcoming programs. I maintain ongoing communication with the school district and regularly update flyers in the Teen Space to reflect upcoming events. Additionally, I manage content on the Teen Services page of our website to keep information current.

Other-

Tech appointments-3

3D Printer-I am continuing to print bookmarks for the patrons and fulfilling requests.

Committees- I continue to be a part of the 250th and EDI committees and help with organization, planning and related tasks. I also continue to be the co-chair of the Safety Committee. I have been organizing meetings, creating agendas, and doing other related tasks to update our safety manual.

EAP Flyer- I continued serving as the library's Employee Assistance Program (EAP) representative and coordinated with the organization to arrange two training sessions for staff during our staff development day.

Presidential Award of Service- We continue to be a certifying organization for this award. This means as the person in charge of this, I have the ability to order and recognize our organization's volunteers based on their hours of service and age with the appropriate level of recognition. The organization recognizes volunteers age 5 and up.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Each January, we eagerly await the announcement of the Caldecott Medal and Newbery Award winners. This year, thanks to a link provided by SCLS, we were able to join the announcement via Zoom alongside other Suffolk County libraries. Sharing reactions through the chat and celebrating the winners together was a wonderful way to take part in the event without traveling to Chicago.

The 2025 Randolph Caldecott Medal was awarded to Fireworks, illustrated by Catia Chien and written by Matthew Burgess. This truly beautiful book is now proudly displayed on our new shelf with its medal affixed. The John Newbery Medal for the most outstanding contribution to children's literature was awarded to All the Blues in the Sky by Renée Watson. This title has been ordered and will be arriving soon.

This month, Karen visited Time to Grow Preschool, where she shared stories about getting ready for bed. Both classes enjoyed songs, flannel board stories, and a variety of books. Laughter filled the room as each child had a buzzer to press during Beep Beep, Go to Sleep! by Todd Tarpley. The visit also included a reading of Goodnight Gorilla by Peggy Rathmann, complete with puppets and flashlights.

Our scavenger hunt this month focused on finding Kirby Characters.

In preparation for the summer reading club, we've begun setting up the online reading program and are purchasing prizes, decorations, and materials.

MEETINGS

January 6th Karen attended the Health Fair meeting.

January 7th and January 8th Karen visited A Time To Grow Preschool for storytime.

January 13, Karen attended a Family Place Distinguished Speakers Series event focused on Emotion and Cognition: How Relationships Shape the Growing Brain. The information brought back included recommended books and websites.

On January 13, Karen attended the Elementary PTA meeting at Cutchogue East. After a warm welcome, she shared information about our various collections, with particular interest in the Early Reader Graphic Novel collection. She also highlighted authors of interest and discussed the activities available in each of our rooms. In addition, Karen reminded the group about SORA, the student online eBook collection. As a result of this meeting, students are now able to access these eBooks using their school ID through ClassLink. Overall, it was a very productive meeting.

January 15th Karen attended the Department Head Meeting with Shauna and Jackie.

January 23rd Karen attended the Summer Shared Program planning meeting at Cutchogue Library.

January 26th Karen attended the Youth Media Awards Watch Party virtually via Zoom.

PROGRAMS

FAMILY

This month, Family Storytime was presented as a three-part program. With January dramatic play centered on a Penguin Research Center, the penguin theme continued throughout the series. From Penguin Stories and “Ice Cream,” to Penguin Icecapade races, and finally Partying like a Penguin, attendees enjoyed days of engaging activities. Children raced penguins frozen in ice cubes across tables and participated in games around the room such as ice fishing, Don’t Break the Ice, and more. Everyone had a great time while learning about penguins and the fascinating continent of Antarctica.

PROGRAMS

The Dramatic Play Penguin Research area was well explored. Kids loved using a microscope, scale and camera as well as learning about the different types of penguins. Some even enjoyed the Penguin Scavenger Hunt around the children’s room.

Programs led by hired instructors, like Babies Boogie and Toddler Tango, remain popular. Our in-house weekly Rhyme and Play program is growing with more and more children attending. This free play followed by nursery rhymes and ending with bubbles is enjoyed with children and their caregivers.

Elementary-aged children are excited about our LEGO classes, and we recently introduced Family LEGO, which has been wonderful to see families building together. The most popular sessions continue to be Minecraft-themed. I have reached out to the organization to inquire about a possible price break for offering additional classes, as well as to request a Learn to Play Minecraft class for children who are just starting out. They were very positive and will follow up on both requests.

OVERALL

We've finished our portion of the state report, and work is ongoing to schedule summer programming and finalize the March/April newsletter.

One of the lights in the light table has gone out. The table was purchased in 2016. Unfortunately, the replacement bulb costs $500 including shipping, and the company advised that the second bulb could fail at any time. In addition, this type of table is no longer manufactured. After discussion, we have decided to purchase a tabletop light at a significantly lower cost. This option will also allow us to bring it out as needed, rather than storing a large piece of furniture

YEAR IN REVIEW

A recap of news that shaped a tumultuous year for libraries and library workers

FREEDOM TO READ FACES FEDERAL SCRUTINY

Following the Trump administration's executive orders targeting diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI), the US Naval Academy removed nearly 400 books deemed DEI-related from its Nimitz Library (later returning most of them to circulation). Meanwhile, in April, the Supreme Court heard arguments in Mahmoud v. Taylor, a case brought by parents wishing to opt their children out of instruction that incorporates books with LGBTQ+ themes at Montgomery County (Md.) Public Schools. The Court ruled 6-3 in June that the district violated families' First Amendment rights in not allowing such opt-outs.

NEW LEADERSHIP AT ALA

Dan Montgomery joined the American Library Association (ALA) as executive director on November 10, succeeding Leslie Burger, who had served as executive director on an interim basis since November 2023. Montgomery was previously president of the Illinois Federation of Teachers.

A WIN FOR FEDERAL LIBRARY FUNDING

On March 14, President Trump signed an executive order to dismantle the Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS), leaving many state libraries to cope with staffing and service cuts. Lawsuits to protect IMLS were filed in response, one by a coalition of 21 attorneys general, another from ALA and the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees. On November 21, in response to the lawsuit filed by the attorneys general, the US District Court for the District of Rhode Island struck down the administration's efforts, ruling that they were unconstitutional. By December 3, IMLS had reinstated all federal grants.

show up FOR OUR LIBRARIES

ALA INITIATIVES TO SUPPORT LIBRARIES

ALA kicked off 2025 with Show Up for Our Libraries, an advocacy campaign designed to engage elected officials and policymakers to protect libraries, their funding, and the freedom to read. The following month, the Association unveiled a companion public supporter program to invite the general public to contribute donations to the movement (bit.ly/ALA-Public).

LIBRARIANS IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Last year saw the release of a handful of librarian-focused documentaries, including The Librarians, which hit the big screen in October, and Free for All: The Public Library, which aired on PBS. Ionia (Iowa) Public Library Director India May, meanwhile, raised the librarian profile by announcing her candidacy for a seat in the state's House of Representatives, following other librarian candidates in recent years in Indiana, Ohio, and Utah.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS UNDER ATTACK

On May 8, Trump abruptly fired Librarian of Congress Carla Hayden, with the White House later claiming that she promoted DEI at the institution. Two days later, Trump fired Register of Copyrights Shira Perlmutter. A federal court reinstated Perlmutter while she challenges the legality of her removal.

SHUTDOWN LEAVES LIBRARIES IN LIMBO

The longest federal government shutdown in US history, which ended November 12, halted the work—and paychecks—of library workers at IMLS, the Library of Congress, and other agencies. At its outset, ALA warned that some federal and state funding for the 2025 fiscal year that had yet to be drawn down may be impacted and could delay future grants libraries rely on.

A SETBACK FOR BROADBAND ACCESS

In May, the Trump administration cut the $2.8 billion Digital Equity Act grant program, designed to close the nationwide broadband gap. Passed in 2021, the act distributes funds for libraries and other institutions to use toward tech support and equipment upgrades for communities with limited digital access.

THREATS TO E-RATE

It was a mixed year for the federal E-Rate program, which provides funding for broadband access to libraries and schools. In June, the Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of the Universal Service Fund, which includes the E-Rate program. However, in September, the Federal Communications Commission voted to rescind funding for library and school Wi-Fi hotspot lending programs previously approved in 2024.

ALA FORWARD INTRODUCED

In early 2025, the Association launched ALA Forward, an initiative designed to improve member engagement and ensure financial stability. It includes three projects: a new strategic plan; a program assessment (reviewing the impact and value of programs at ALA); and an organizational assessment (reviewing staff operations, structure, and processes). ALA Forward's evaluations concluded last summer, and implementation of its recommendations is ongoing.

ALA FORWARD
FOR OUR NEXT 150 YEARS

TRUMP EDITS FEDERAL RECORDS

Shortly after his inauguration, Trump issued a slew of executive orders that affected federal data and information. As demanded by Executive Order 14172, the Library of Congress revised 45 subject headings on February 18, notably changing “Mexico, Gulf of” to “America, Gulf of” and “Denali, Mount (Alaska)” to “McKinley, Mount (Alaska).” Archivists scrambled to preserve thousands of federal data sets and web pages that were altered or removed in response to Trump’s orders, including environmental data, signage in national parks, and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention findings.

BAKER & TAYLOR ANNOUNCES CLOSURE

On October 6, the nearly 200-year-old book distributor Baker & Taylor (B&T) told employees it had begun shutting down business operations. B&T had faced financial difficulties in recent years, and its primary creditor had declared its loans to be in default. B&T was a major provider of books for public libraries, and its closure disrupted supplies as those libraries sought new vendors.

BAKER & TAYLOR

LIBRARIES WEATHER LOS ANGELES FIRES

Multiple wildfires raged across Los Angeles in January, destroying tens of thousands of acres across Southern California, including the Los Angeles Public Library’s Palisades branch. Amid the devastation, area libraries acted as hubs for internet access, power, masks, and information about recovering from the disaster.

YOUTH DIVISIONS REUNITE

In June, ALA Council voted to dissolve the Young Adult Library Services Association and combine its operations with the Association for Library Service to Children under a new name. This reunification will take effect September 1.

MORE BATTLES FOR AND AGAINST STATE BOOK BANS

In states across the country, book banning bills and laws persisted—as did anticensorship efforts and rulings to counter them. In July, New Hampshire Gov. Kelly Ayotte (R) defied her party by vetoing a bill that would make it easier for parents to remove books from school libraries. In August, US District Judge Carlos Mendoza deemed Florida’s efforts to restrict school materials that “describe sexual conduct” vague and unconstitutional. And in September, a law that allows Texas parents to form councils that could flag books for removal from school libraries went into effect.

GRAPPLING WITH AI

Use of artificial intelligence (AI) continued to evolve in 2025. In one major legal decision last summer, a court ruled that it was acceptable for AI company Anthropic to use legally purchased copyrighted materials to train its large language model but not for it to train on pirated works. Meanwhile, libraries grappled with unlabeled AI content in their collections and suffered server disruptions caused by bots scraping the internet for training materials. Librarians also worked with this technology, leveraging AI to improve accessibility of collections and forming committees to ensure ethical AI use.

Bri Sander Guides a Special Project with North Fork Girl Scouts

This month's Dan's Papers North Fork cover comes to us from a unique collaboration with artist Bri Sander and local Girl Scouts Hannah Boyd and Remy Trynieszewski who created a beautiful and thoughtful piece of art to achieve the highest honor available from the youth program. And that work remains on view in the community for all to enjoy.

Based in New York City and Sound Beach, Sander is a talented mixed media artist who dedicates herself to working with a North Fork nonprofit, cleaning up area beaches and teaching the community about preserving nature through creative practice. Here, Sander talks about the Girl Scouts project, her own art using discarded objects, and the East End-based contemporaries with whom she shares an artistic and environmental vision.

A Conversation with Bri Sander

Tell me about this cover art and how it came about? I know it was created with children through an upcycling program you help run. Can you give us the details about the program and this particular project?

This cover art is a piece created in 2024 by local Girl Scout Troop #865 members Hannah Boyd and Remy Trynieszewski with guidance from Troop Leader Lisa Boyd for their Silver Award Legacy Project. The piece is on permanent view at the Mattituck-Laurel Library. I connected with the Scouts through my work with UpSculpt, a North Fork-based nonprofit organization where I serve as Director of Education and Outreach.

At UpSculpt (upsculpt.com), we create sculpture from plastic marine debris and empower action against the crisis of ocean plastic through art, science and educational workshops. My work with UpSculpt is heavily tied to my creative practice through guidance and mentorship from founder Cindy Pease Roe, a talented North Fork artist and pioneer using marine debris as a creative medium.

The Scouts aimed to create a marine debris art project for their Silver Award and contacted local organizations including UpSculpt and the Atlantic Marine Conservation Society for advice. I enjoyed guiding the Scouts through the process of collecting marine plastics, preparing the material, offering creative advice, and securing a venue to present their art to the public. Hannah and Remy spent time visiting the UpSculpt studio to learn techniques and get inspired to create.

Can you talk a bit more about the Troop’s experience and about the place where you collected the debris?

I spoke with Troop Leader Lisa Boyd, who had this to share: “Hannah and Remy were happy to focus on a beach close to their homes. They visited one local shoreline and found more than enough marine debris for the project. The location ended up being very meaningful — it’s a place the girls visit to hang out and ride bikes often. It was impactful to witness debris accumulating so regularly as they visited to collect materials. Bri’s guidance helped Hannah and Remy get excited to engage with their community and get creative with sustainable materials!”

Tell me about working with Cindy Pease Roe? She’s also done a cover for us.

As Director of Education and Outreach for UpSculpt, I work closely alongside Cindy Pease Roe, who is the founding artist. Cindy is a wonderful creative mentor and her work has a significant impact on my practice. I enjoy connecting with local artists who highlight discarded materials, often discussing our latest finds, exchanging debris, and exploring new ways to create from waste!

Fishbone Earrings by Bri Sander

Can you talk a bit about your own work as an artist? You have such a diverse body of work, but there are clearly threads tying it together. Tell us about that.

I find creative inspiration by investigating the natural world through an intersecting lens of art and science. As a former ecologist with a lifelong passion for the environment, I explore humanity's complicated relationship with nature. Highlighting simple patterns and whimsical subjects, I draw references from New York's natural environment, my background in biological sciences, and past experience conducting research in the field of microplastic pollution. From an early age, I've always had an obsession with discarded objects and cleaning up the environment.

What has this program done for you as it relates to your own work? Do you find it inspires you to do more, or is it difficult to expend all the energy working with others? Meaning: Do you run out of gas when trying to focus back on your own stuff or does it charge your battery?

Collaboration motivates me to keep creating. This project was a prime example of how rewarding it is to connect with your community and create public art projects. It was inspiring to witness Hannah and Remy's goal to create marine debris artwork for their Silver Award. This unconventional idea was met with great reception from the community during a public unveiling at Mattituck-Laurel Library in November 2024, and it was an honor to help the Scouts bring this project to life!

"Floundering" by Bri Sander

Is everything you use found, or do you also buy objects for your compositions?

I use discarded materials in my work, sometimes paired with traditional mediums like acrylic, ink, watercolor and printmaking techniques. My choice to use found objects is deliberate, I want to highlight sustainable practices, send an environmental message, and help make a difference with my art. By transforming discarded waste into whimsical mixed media works, sculptures, and wearable objects, a lighthearted commentary arises on nature's beauty in the face of continuous environmental destruction.

There are a number of artists working with materials like this, especially plastic found on the beach. As we discussed, there is of course Cindy Pease Roe, but also Scott Bluedorn and Rossa Cole, to name two others. Besides Cindy Pease Roe, have you worked or shown with any of these artists, or people doing this kind of work?

I am honored to work among such talented artists on the East End and hope to collaborate with many more. I've shown work with the artists you've mentioned in recent exhibitions in Greenport, at the Floyd Memorial Library curated by Sally Grant, and the North Fork Art Collective curated by artist Kara Hoblin. Kara does a fantastic job bringing artists who work with found materials together.

"Reef Motif" by Bri Sander

Can you talk about how the region here plays a role in what you create?

I am constantly drawn to the outdoors and inspired by the nature on Long Island — most often the marine environment. Living along the bluffs of the north shore, I witness the amount of debris washing up on our shorelines every day. Beyond our shorelines, especially when I spend time in New York City, I'm constantly searching for discarded treasures littering the environment. I end most days with pockets full of small objects found on sidewalks, on the beach, and accumulating under the desk. My friends, family, and community play a role by collecting and donating objects when the opportunity calls!

"SUNRISE" mural by Bri Sander

Do you have any new projects, accomplishments or shows underway or coming up?

I'm proud to unveil my recent public mural, "SUNRISE," made possible by the New York State Council on the Arts with the support of the Office of the Governor and the New York State Legislature as part of the New York State Cultivating Havens for the Arts through Regional Murals (CHARM) initiative. The work includes over 2,200 discarded bottle caps and plastic bread tags donated by community members. "SUNRISE" is on view through November 2026 near the UpSculpt studio at Port of Egypt Marine in Southold, located at 62300 NY-25.

In 2025, my creative work was supported by the Long Island Grants for the Arts Fellowship, through funds provided by the office of the governor and the New York State Legislature, and administered by the Huntington Arts Council.

Where can people find your work online or in-person?

My work is on view at the North Fork Art Collective in Greenport and Gallery North in Setauket. View more artwork online via my website, brisandr.com and social media @bri.sandr.

WHEREAS, for the 2021/2022, 2022/2023, 2023/2024 and 2024/2025 tax years, the Parties entered into an Authorization Agreement in the same form as this Agreement;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual agreements, promises and undertakings set forth herein, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged and intending to be legally bound hereby, the Parties agree as follows:

1. The taxing jurisdictions agree that the Town of Riverhead will issue consolidated PILOT statements ("PILOT statements") to LIPA for the 2025/2026 tax year, which will itemize the total PILOTs claimed to be owed for all taxing jurisdictions on each individual parcel owned by LIPA that are subject to PILOTs under PAL 1020-q(1), calculated no differently than property taxes before the 2% cap on LIPA payments pursuant to PAL 1020-q(1) is applied. For illustrative purposes, the PILOT statement should include all the information that the Town would ordinarily provide in its property tax bills issued for each parcel. The Town of Riverhead will provide the Suffolk County Comptroller and each taxing jurisdiction with copies of all "PILOT" invoices issued to LIPA under this agreement.

2. LIPA's payments of the 2025-2026 PILOT invoices shall be made in two installments, by 1st half for the period covering December 1 to May 31 and by 2nd half for the period covering June 1 to November 30. The 1st half payment will be due within 30 days of LIPA's receipt of the invoice containing the information needed to calculate LIPA's payment according to LIPA's methodology. The 2nd half installment shall be due on or before May 10, 2026, but if LIPA receives the Town of Riverhead's invoice less than thirty days before May 10, 2026 or after that date, LIPA's 2nd half installment shall be due within 30 days of receipt. The taxing jurisdictions reserve all rights and remedies to challenge such methodology established by LIPA and all parties agree that the Town of Riverhead's receipt, distribution and/or deposit of payments remitted by LIPA under the procedure set forth herein shall be without prejudice to any pending litigation.

3. The taxing jurisdictions authorize the Town of Riverhead to accept payment of the PILOT amounts paid by LIPA for the 2025/2026 tax year and to promptly remit payment to the taxing jurisdictions.

4. The taxing jurisdictions agree that the Town of Riverhead will apportion the payments from LIPA in accordance with the percentage of each taxing jurisdiction's percentage share of the total tax rate on a parcel-by-parcel basis. The taxing jurisdictions reserve all rights and remedies they may have to pursue a claim for the difference and such jurisdictions shall hold the Town of Riverhead harmless from any difference between the amounts set forth in the PILOT Statements and the sums actually remitted by LIPA.

a. Notwithstanding the foregoing paragraph "4", as to the County of Suffolk, in light of the pending litigation relating to money alleged to be due to the County from LIPA and/or the Town of Riverhead, to wit: Long Island Power Authority, et al. v. County of Suffolk, et al., Suffolk County Index No.: 622697-2017, the County's right to dispute computation and apportionment methodology by the parties to this agreement shall be preserved.
